The comments provided earlier have been taken into consideration. The document appears to be complete with respect to the classes and families described and can be easily extended, if required.

Parts 2 and 3 of FDIS 15408 are too voluminous for paper-based methods of usage. Therefore, a spreadsheet-based tool to browse, select and combine the individual elements described in parts 2 and 3 should be provided as an informative annex.

With the comments mentioned above, the document can be approved.
